

Schnitzel is a loving fu dog-like creature who loves all other living creatures (especially his mother). Though he lives in the clouds his sole job is to visit people on Earth and solve conflicts, acting as a sort of a cross between a pet and a mediator. His brother, Lunchmeat, has always been jealous of his power and most of the time can be found conspiring to steal Schnitzel's job. However, Schnitzel always manages to guilt-trip Lunchmeat into getting rid of the plots before he goes through with them.
